Dog Can Be Good Mother to Baby Rabbits

Do you know where baby rabbits come from?

They dig them right out of the ground. And if you are one of those skeptics, just ask Herman Uzzle of Dorris Heights. He and Mrs. Uzzle also can tell you that a dog can be a very good mother to baby rabbits. At least Chinka Toi.

Mr. Uzzle and a neighbor were digging a ditch a few days ago and he dug unknowingly right down into a rabbit bed.

The bed was destroyed and there were four tiny, helpless rabbits down in the hole. He didn't know what to do for a while, but took them in the house and they were fed milk through a doll's bottle and nipple. Chinka Toi is the Uzzles' two year old female Pekingese. She has never had puppies and the presence of the rabbits brought to her a mother's sheer delight. She took over.

When she has them on a blanket on the floor, she cleans them up and pulls them back on the blanket when they wander off. Most of the time the rabbits are kept in a little box to themselves with Chinka Toi getting them occasionally.

When she has them she worries with them and treats them just like they were her own puppies. "She always has been the best little dog," Mrs. Uzzle commented.

Vursell, Dirksen Urge Prison for Southern Illinois

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles W. Vursell (R-Ill.) and Sen. Everett Dirksen have asked President Eisenhower to include two new prisons, one in southern Illinois, in a civil works program.

Vursell, Salem, said Thursday the Bureau of Prisons several years ago had termed construction of two new prisons as "urgent." Vursell said surveys were underway to find a suitable down-state location for the institution.

"I propose to do every reasonable thing to persuade my colleagues in the House, and, depending upon Sen. Dirksen, in the Senate, to consummate this project now, in view of the fact... that funds were made available by the senate," Vursell said.

Albert Malone Tells Historical Society of Ancient Inhabitants of Jordan River Valley

Albert Malone, student of Bible, Hebrew and Egyptian history, was the principal speaker at the Saline County Historical Society meeting held Tuesday night at the Mitchell-Carnegie Library in Harrisburg.

Mr. Malone pointed out that the key to understanding people who lived centuries ago and people of different religions lies in studying their background and history and learning to think as they thought. He gave a most interesting and educational discussion of the history of the people who inhabited the Jordan River Valley from pre-Biblical days up to the present time.

The speaker stated that evidence has been found that the ancient inhabitants who lived in the Jordan River Valley were a cultured people who were expert craftsmen and shrewd farmers. The remains of hundreds of elaborate burial tombs have been found on both sides of

Eisenhower Announces 7-Point Plan To Spur Home Building

Second Floor of Hal Webber Home Caves In

The second floor of Hal Webber's two-story brick building at Stonefort caved in last night and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Webber, who live in an upstairs apartment, barely got out safely.

Mr. Webber said a downstairs partition gave away, causing the flooring to collapse. Pulling in was the northwest wall, but it had not collapsed this morning.

Mr. Webber, who stated the structure was built in 1901, said his wife had gone to bed and that he was still up when he heard the floor giving in. He at first thought it was a rear porch collapsing and started to investigate but soon found it was the floor of the entire second floor caving in.

All the lights except at the front of the building went out about that time and he and Mrs. Webber managed to make it safely down some front steps after Mr. Webber had kicked out a door leading to the stairs.

There were ten rooms upstairs, with Mr. and Mrs. Webber living in six or seven of them and having things stored in the others. This morning furnishings had been taken from four of the rooms by ladder to second story windows but workers were unable to get to many valuable items such as a deep freeze and kitchen equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber were having part of the furnishings taken to Carrier Mills, where they were moving in with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, and some was being stored at Stonefort.

Mr. Webber had operated a store in the building until 1946.

Intruders Take Refreshments For White Shrine

Someone in Harrisburg probably had a real old-fashioned stomach ache Thursday.

An unknown number of candy Easter eggs and more than a gallon of fruit punch, refreshments for a meeting of the White Shrine, were consumed by intruders at the Masonic temple sometime between Thursday morning and early Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Marion Ozmert, worthy high priestess, White Shrine of Harrisburg, spent considerable time Thursday morning decorating tables in the Masonic temple dining room for a social hour to follow the regular meeting of the White Shrine.

Mrs. Ozmert decorated the tables with Easter grass and candy eggs and left a large bottle of fruit punch and several bottles of ginger ale in the kitchen.

Shortly before noon she left the temple and went to her home. Upon her return to the Masonic temple in the afternoon she found the eggs eaten, the grass scattered over the floor and the fruit punch and the bottles of ginger ale consumed. The cabinets in the kitchen had been ransacked, but nothing taken.

The social hour went off as planned—except that it wasn't a surprise as Mrs. Ozmert meant it to be. She had to get assistance to redecorate the dining room.

LETTUCE SHAKEUP—State Trooper Guthrie Alexander inspects damage to semi-trailer truck cab after truck carrying 30,000 pounds of lettuce overturned on U. S. Route 45 three miles south of Carrier Mills Thursday. The driver, Billy Franklin Rhoads of Little Rock, Ark., said his brakes locked, that he lost control and the truck ran off the road. Rhoads suffered slight cuts and bruises. The lettuce, being trucked from Little Rock to Cincinnati, was transferred to another truck. (A. Sweat Photo)

Illinois Assured Of $195 Million Federal Road Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP)— Passage of the highway bill by Congress Thursday assured Illinois of 195 million dollars in federal road construction allotments for this year, Gov. Stratton said today.

He said passage of the bill "clinches the continuation of our accelerated highway program" and also would mean an increase in the public works employment estimate he made recently.

The governor had told a recent news conference that a public works speedup would result in 75,000 new jobs in Illinois starting with the opening of the construction season.

Thousands to Attend Outdoor Easter Services

By United Press
Thousands of worshippers from Illinois and surrounding states are expected at Easter services on southern Illinois hills and mountains.

Sunrise services are scheduled on Bald Knob Mountain near Alto Pass in the Illinois Ozarks and at the Red Hill State Park near Lawrenceville. An afternoon service will be held at Williams Hill in the Shawnee National Forest south-east of Harrisburg near Herod.

Wayman Presley, rural mail carrier of Makanda and co-founder of the Bald Knob service, expects some 6,000 persons at the 6 a. m. service. The speaker at the 22nd annual service will be the Rev. Vernon MacNeill, executive director of the Illinois Church Council in Springfield. The Southern Illinois University "Singing Squadron" will provide special music at the service.

Construction of a huge, lighted cross is expected to begin this summer atop Bald Knob Mountain. The 16th annual service at the Red Hill State Park will begin at 5:15 a. m. The speaker will be the Rev. E. L. Carter of Olney. A new neon-lighted cross has been erected atop Red Hill. The cross is 98 feet high and rotates.

The service at Williams Hill is scheduled to start at 3 p. m. The speaker will be the Rev. James G. Johnson, Eldorado, missionary for the American Sunday School Union which sponsors the service.

New Highway Bill Regulations Seek to Curb 'Billboard Blight'

WASHINGTON (AP)— The new highway bill would not compel states to regulate billboards along the new 41,000-mile interstate highway system. But it offers two cash incentive plans to persuade them to do so.

Congress approved the bill in final form Thursday. President Eisenhower was expected to sign it in due course.

Sponsors hoped that states—under one or both of the incentive schemes—would curb what they call "billboard blight"—especially along new portions of the interstate system.

That network, first mapped in the 1956 highway bill, is expected to cost some 40 billion dollars over the years. The federal government would pay 90 per cent.

The bill would allow states to spend federal funds to obtain so-called advertising easements under which property owners would agree not to place signs along the routes. Five per cent of the cost of land for new rights-of-way could be spent for this purpose.

It would also offer a bonus—at an additional 1-2 of 1 per cent of highway costs—to states which use their constitutional police powers, zoning laws and the like to regulate billboards along rights of way purchased since July, 1956—some 65 to 75 per cent of the total mileage.

Sandra O'Day Held in Shooting Of Ex-Convict at Madison, Ill.

MADISON, Ill. (AP)— Sandra June O'Day, 26, a key figure in the Greenlease kidnapping case, today was held for investigation in the shooting and serious wounding of Garland E. McGarvey Sr., ex-convict and former Madison tavern operator.

Witnesses told police the shooting occurred in McGarvey's apartment during a dispute between him and members of his family. Miss O'Day told police she fired at McGarvey twice when he attacked his son, Thomas, with a blackjack.

One of the bullets penetrated McGarvey's right arm and lodged in his chest. He was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Granite City and transferred to Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

Members of McGarvey's family said he was drinking heavily Thursday and Thursday night. He returned home early today after campaigning for a candidate in the Madison County primary election next Tuesday.

Police said he started berating his wife, Sarah Ann, his daughter, Joanne, 14, and his son, Thomas 24. They said the young McGarvey tried to persuade him to go to bed.

When other means failed Mrs. McGarvey handed her son a

Eliminates Down Payment on GI Home Loans

Program Will Give Impetus on Starts For New Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower today announced a seven-step program to spur home building, including elimination of down payment on GI home loans.

It said six of the steps were a follow-up to the housing bill he signed earlier this week.

The President said the program would give the impetus necessary to increase "substantially" housing starts this year and provide jobs for many workers in the construction and other industries.

The seven steps of the program—six of them carrying out provisions of the new housing law—were listed by the White House as follows:

—The veterans administrator has removed the 2 per cent down-payment requirement on GI loans effective today. Veterans, however, still must pay in cash the closing costs on the loan.

—The Federal Housing Administration has put into effect, as of April 1, the lower down-payments permitted under the new housing law. The required 3 per cent down-payment on FHA-insured home loans will now apply to the first $10,000 of the loan. This will save home buyers about $400 on medium priced homes, the White House said.

—The controls on fees, charges and discount mortgages have been eliminated by both the FHA and VA. "This action will permit interest yields on home mortgages to be adjusted more flexibly to market conditions and will promote an increased flow of private funds to investment in federally underwritten home mortgages," the White House said.

—The VA raised the maximum interest rate on GI loans to 4 1/2 per cent effective today. The rate had been 4 1/2 per cent. The new rate was expected to increase funds available for GI loans.

—The FHA raised the maximum interest rate on military mortgages from 4 to 4 1/4 per cent effective April 1. The Defense Department estimates it will close contracts at the new rate for about 250 million dollars worth of housing for servicemen in the next three months. The projects will be built on military bases.

—The President has released another 325 million dollars to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy FHA or V. mortgages. The mortgages are not to exceed $13,500, the White House announced.

—Administrative regulations have been issued by FMNA describing the terms on which it will buy FHA or V. mortgages. The mortgages are not to exceed $13,500, the White House announced.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For in Him we live and move and have our being, Acts 17:28. Death comes when God ceases to direct our bodily functions. Life is not in our cells, nor our blood. They are simply used by the infinite.

Unending Task

Our pride in our third successful satellite launching must not be allowed to fade gradually but inexorably into new complacency.

A 3-to-2 margin over the Russians is not exactly a safe lead to take into the late innings of the contest for outer space. The newest space vehicle may, moreover, have a very short life.

Our rocket and satellite scientists and technicians obviously are a good deal better at their jobs than either we or a lot of people abroad thought in the dark days of Russian successes.

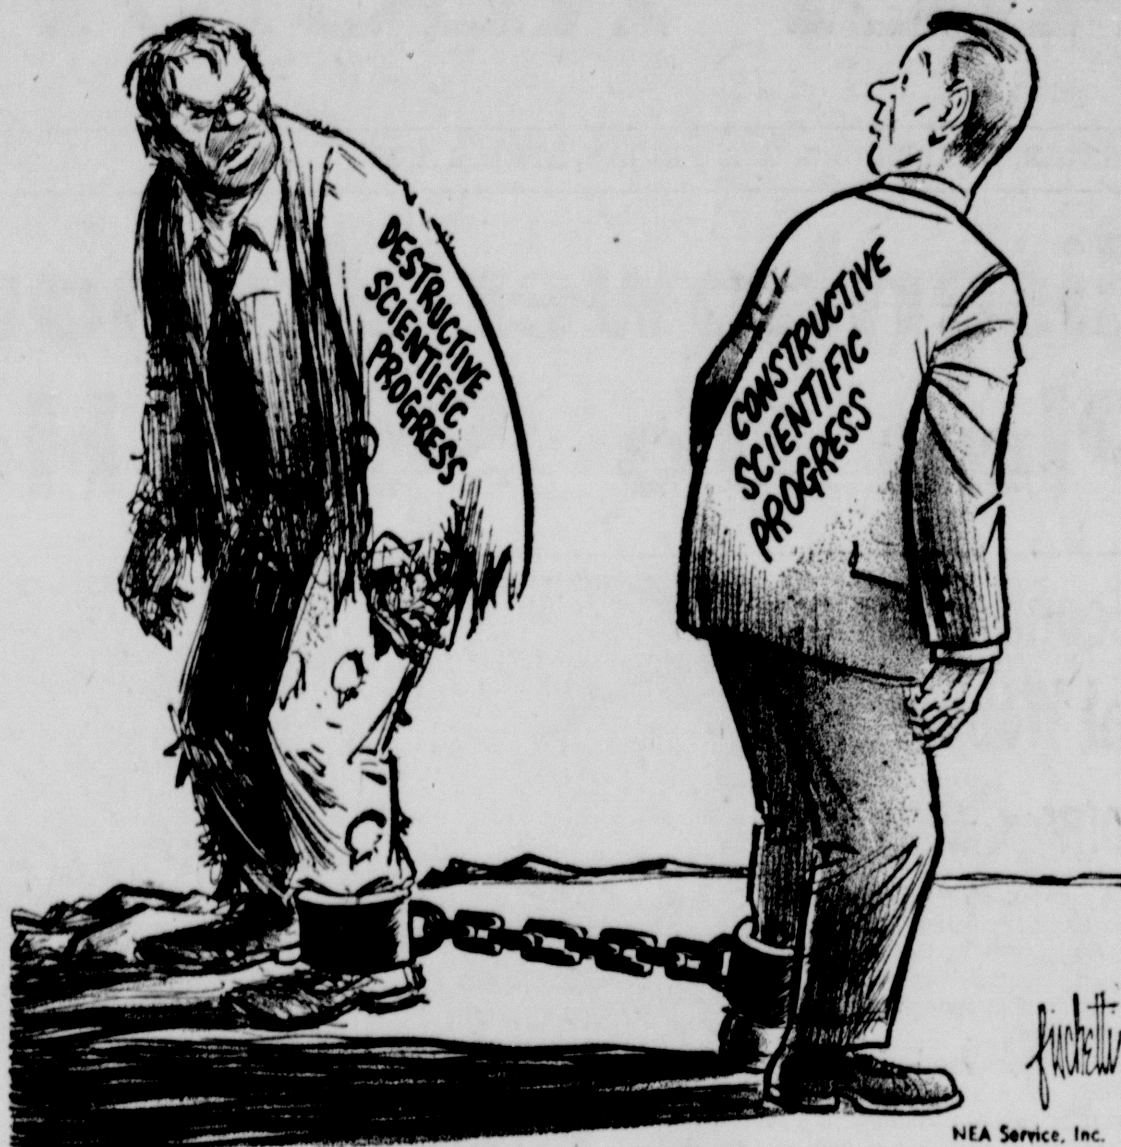

But they, and all those entrusted with the security and military-scientific advancement of this nation, have many hard tasks ahead. We dare not assume that the Russians are not trying desperately—by the day—to get their third, their fourth and eventually their fiftieth vehicle into orbit.

This contest, like the great East-West struggle of which it is a part, goes on without rest. The nation which rests may one day never get up.

No Bomb

WILLIAMSTOWN, Vt.—(UP)—Principal Donald Brown of Williamstown High School told a secondary school meeting group he would be glad to have "anyone call him at any time." His first call was from a man who informed him a bomb was placed into the school, set to explode the next morning. It proved a hoax.

Nixon Faces Tough Job on Tour of South America

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Vice President Richard M. Nixon faces a different kind of job when he heads for South America at the end of April. He has already started studying for it.

Most VIP good-will missions are intended to cement international political relations. But there is nothing particularly bad about such relations between the United States and the South American republics today.

Nearly all of the political pot-boiling now going on over revolutions and elections is found in Central America and the West Indies. South America—where Nixon is going—is relatively quiet politically at the moment.

Its difficulties are predominantly economic. And this fact has apparently not yet registered on Washington.

AN EXAMPLE is furnished by the recent first meeting this year of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Latin-American Affairs. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) is chairman.

Assistant Secretary of State for Latin-American Affairs Roy R. Rubottom went up to report with a carefully prepared statement on economic difficulties in the area. He was allowed to read it. Then it was promptly dropped.

Such questioning as followed was completely on political and military affairs. What about the U. S. military aid programs for Latin America? Were U. S.-furnished arms being used by dictatorial governments to suppress civil liberties in countries like Cuba and Guatemala?

What did the secretary think of asking the U. N. to supervise Latin-American elections? What was the reason for handcuffing ousted Cuban President Carlos Prío Socarras when he was recently questioned in Florida, as a political refugee, for alleged collaboration with Cuban rebels? And why was ex-President Perez Jimenez of Venezuela being given asylum in the United States?

These were the things that seemed to bother the senators most—not the more fundamental economic difficulties.

THE FACT THAT political chaos would follow if these countries are financially ruined wasn't seriously considered.

What has happened is that the U. S. recession has rubbed off first and hardest in Latin America. Half of its exports come to the United States. They were valued at four billion dollars last year. All of this money was spent on U. S. exports.

Fifteen Latin-American countries export coffee. It is the principal dollar-earner for five of them. When the price of coffee goes down, all feel it.

Other major exports include copper, lead, zinc and oil, in addition to sugar and bananas from the Caribbean area.

Cuba last year was able to maintain her purchases of U. S. manufactured goods only because the Cubans were able to sell sugar to Russia for dollars.

THE POSSIBILITY of U. S. tariff increases on copper, lead and zinc imports, to protect U. S. domestic producers, constantly hangs over the heads of Latin-American mines.

Import quotas to protect U. S. producers against competition from Latin-American oil have the same effect. This hits principally at Venezuela.

So the job that Vice President Nixon faces on his South American swing is not an easy one.

Equality High School Notes

Hubert Drone

Three members of the Future Farmers of America chapter of the Equality Township high school, accompanied by their instructor Burton L. Shanr, attended the annual DeKalb Banquet at Breeze, March 27.

The banquet was held to honor the outstanding vocational agriculture boys in corn and poultry projects for 1957.

Hubert Drone topped the entrants from Equality with a score of 97. He was awarded an attractive corn plaque, certificate of achievement and a pin. Charles Aydelott, second with a score of 86, received a certificate of achievement and a pin and Ronnie Frohock, whose score of 76 was good for third place, received a pin.

There were six boys from the Equality high school entered in the corn achievement contest. They planted two different DeKalb hybrids for their projects and kept records and observations on them during the last growing season. In the fall a yield test was taken by each boy, the results were recorded and forwarded to the company.

Fifteen high schools were represented at the banquet meeting at Breeze. An educational program on corn and poultry was presented following the banquet.

THE 65-VOICE "SINGING SQUADRON" of Southern Illinois University's Air Force ROTC unit will provide choral highlights for Easter sunrise services on Bald Knob Mountain near Alto Pass Sunday. During the services, to begin at 6 a. m., the cadet group will sing two hymns—"I Will Sing of My Redeemer" and "The Strife is O'er"—and the "Alleluiah, Amen" from Handel's "Judas Maccabaeus." The open air services are expected to attract thousands of worshippers from Southern Illinois and nearby states. The tradition was established 21 years ago by Rural Mailman Wayman Presley, Makanda, and Rev. William Lively. Donald Canedy, graduate assistant in the SIU music department, will direct the Singing Squadron. (SIU Photo Service)

Easter Bonnet Tree Feature Of April Fool Day Party

Mrs. Velma Pankey, 199 South Water street, was hostess for the April Fool Day party held Tuesday by the Past Noble Grand club of Pride of Midway Rebekah Lodge No. 679. The most unusual decorations for the party featured an Easter Bonnet tree made of greenery and branches with miniature Easter hats "growing" on it.

There was a short business meeting followed by the party in charge of Mrs. Earl Noel and Mrs. Cecil Cook. Game prizes were awarded to the winners, Mrs. O. E. Sowers Jr., Mrs. Earl Noel and Mrs. Clarence Dixon.

A table was brought before the group bearing birthday exchange gifts for all of the birthdays for all year as is the custom with this club. Another table bearing a tray of miniature open faced sandwiches and a tray with two miniature teapots and cups and saucers was observed and Mrs. Marie Black poured pink tea for the guests. Following the "April Fool" refreshments the guests were invited to the real refreshment table where eggs with painted faces and Easter hats peered from the centerpiece greenery. There was also a row of birthday cakes, one representing each month which a member had a birthday. Each guest was served from the cake of her birthday month, with a piece of cake and coffee.

As the guests departed they were given a choice of hats from the Easter Bonnet tree for a souvenir of the party.

Those present and not already named were: Mrs. Lon Vaughn, Mrs. Paul Hilliard, Mrs. Bill Noonan, Mrs. Henry Winkelman, Mrs. James Burroughs, Mrs. Gus Schmitz, Mrs. Sadie Hafford, Mrs. Geneva Mitchell and her son Jack.

The next meeting will be held May 6 in the home of Mrs. Cordelia York.

Dinner was sent to Mrs. Edgar Horn who was too ill to be present.

Breaks With Service Traditions

Eisenhower Plan Step Toward Single Military Fighting Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan seemed to many today to take America a long step toward a single military fighting force.

Under pressure of the air-atomic and missile age and with need for instant command decisions, Eisenhower's plan broke with service traditions as old as the Republic.

"Separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever," he told a none-too-receptive Congress in a special 7,000-word message Thursday.

He said he would strip the present Army, Navy and Air Force Departments of their combat forces and assign those fighting elements to "truly unified" commands.

Unified commanders would have "unquestioned authority" over the air, ground and sea units assigned them and would receive their orders directly from the President, Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Secretaries Cut

The service secretaries and their departments would be cut out of the military chain of command completely. Their job from now on would be administration, supply, training and budgeting. The combat elements would in effect become forces of the Defense Department responsible to McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McElroy, who would have vastly increased power under the reorganization scheme, told newsmen that proposed legislation needed to carry out parts of Eisenhower's plan would be ready to send to Congress in about 10 days.

Eisenhower called on Congress to repeal any current laws which give responsibility for military operations to any Pentagon official other than McElroy.

FREMONT, Neb. — (UP)—Ann Jelinek, 20, Wahoo, Neb., bagged an elk with her car on U. S. 77 south of here. Nebraska Game Commission director Mel Steen said it was highly unusual to find an elk in Nebraska. He also pointed out that elk are very seldom killed on a highway, even in areas

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

New Method Successful in Relieving Pains of ARTHRITIS, BURSITIS, RHEUMATISM

Helps Circulation! Clinically Tested Heat-And-Massage
Pad An Amazing New Concept in Pain Relief!

Extensive clinical tests in several of the nation's leading institutions have proven that Thermo-Cyclopad, an entirely new concept in pain relief can help diminish discomfort and pain symptomatic of Arthritis, Bursitis, and Rheumatism. Now for the first time, and in your own home, you can get the pain relieving benefits of mankind's oldest boon — heat and massage — simultaneously. It combines soothing controlled heat with deep penetrating Cyclo Massage in one soft, comfortable pad. This dual action gets down into bone and tissue, helps to increase circulation and helps to disperse pain sensation. The individual can use the Thermo Cyclopad fully dressed, wherever and whenever the need arises — while sitting, resting, reading, reclining or even working. Of course, for severe or persistent pain, see your doctor.

Thermo-Cyclopad is as convenient to use as the average household appliance. It does its wonderful work without the harmful side effects sometimes associated with pills, drugs, lotions, or liniments. For all who suffer from Arthritis, Bursitis, Rheumatism and for those who would like to help improve their blood circulation, this is indeed a milestone in scientific achievement. The Niagara Company, maker of the Thermo-Cyclopad, is offering an enlightening FREE BOOKLET. Fill in and mail the coupon below and you will receive, without charge or obligation, a copy of "Miracle of Science" — a valuable book that concerns all who are concerned with the types of pain discussed in this news release.

Quits Congress Race To Keep From Running Against Son

WASHINGTON AP—Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-N.D.) has decided to forego running for re-election against a Democratic nominee who happens to be his son.

The 79-year-old veteran congressman withdrew his name from consideration for the Republican endorsement last week. He acted in protest against the North Dakota GOP convention's refusal to endorse Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) for re-election.

Burdick would have had to run as an independent or win the GOP nomination against a candidate who has been endorsed by the state convention.

His son, Quentin N. Burdick, a Fargo, N. D., attorney, has been nominated for Burdick's seat on the Democratic ticket.

Legislature from the 59th district, will speak in behalf of his candidacy tonight at 10 o'clock over WSIL-TV.

U. S., Allies Near Split Over Disarmament, Summit Proposals

WASHINGTON 3P—The United States and its allies are near a dangerous split over a possible shift in policy on disarmament and an East-West summit meeting.

Indications are that differences over these two important issues were argued by the allied powers recently and left unsettled. The differences are major ones, but the United States is confident they can be overcome.

In an effort to get on with work toward a possible summit meeting with the Russians, President Eisenhower has ordered a speed-up in this country's search for a "new look" disarmament, policy designed to break the East-West arm deadlock.

The top-level policy review will include the possibility of halting nuclear tests; halting production of nuclear bomb materials; reducing nuclear bomb stockpiles; reducing dangers of surprise attack and cutting back armed forces and conventional armaments; and the President's proposals for an international agreement to use outer space for peaceful purposes.

NATO Meeting in May

The President's hope is that the basic disarmament review can be completed in general form by the end of this month, and cleared with U. S. allies. The council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will meet in Paris May 5. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other allied leaders will attend.

The United States, Britain and France on Monday told Russia they would be ready to begin diplomatic talks in Moscow "in the second half of April" on a summit meeting.

In addition to the disarmament problem, it is known that the United States and its allies do not see eye to eye on how to proceed with summit negotiations with the Soviet Union.

A crisis on this point was barely headed off last weekend when Eisenhower and Dulles held a series of emergency telephone conversations to discuss the problem of which allied nations would negotiate with the Soviets at a summit conference. The decision was to table the issue—temporarily.

Monday's Big Three note to Moscow made no mention of the composition of negotiating forces on the western side.

Bavarian Woman Bleeds from Wounds For 32nd Consecutive Good Friday

KONNERSREUTH, Germany 3P—An estimated 3,000 visitors filed today through the dimmed room where Therese Neumann lay bleeding from the eyes and wounds on the hands and feet for the 32nd consecutive Good Friday.

Many of the visitors were curiosity-seekers. But many others were Bavarian mountain folk who devoutly believe Therese Neumann's wounds portray those of Christ on the cross.

The crowd was smaller and included fewer Americans than in the immediate post-war years, when dozens of chartered buses used to carry hundreds of GIs up the narrow, winding road to this Bavarian village less than five miles from the Iron Curtain.

Many of the visitors attended Good Friday services in the Konnersreuth church, conducted by 85-year-old Father Joseph Naber, before filing through the ground-floor room where Miss Neumann lay on blood-smeared sheets.

The 59-year-old daughter of a poor farmer appeared pale and seemed to have aged considerably since last year. She has been suffering from heart trouble, family members said.

As the visitors shuffled through the room, the elderly woman lay on the bed in a seeming trance. Blood streamed from the corners of her eyes. A tight-fitting white cap, like a nun's coif, almost hid the wounds on her forehead, but those on her hands were plainly visible.

Father Naber, Therese's parish priest for 40 years, stood at the head of the bed as the visitors passed.

"Made Medicine"
Sitting Bull generally is given the credit of opposing General Custer in the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Actually, Crazy Horse was the Sioux leader in that battle and Sitting Bull acted only as the holy man who "made medicine."

Mamie to Stick To Old Fashioned New Look Easter

WASHINGTON 3P—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower will stick to the "old fashioned new look" in the Easter style parade, the White House said today.

She hasn't bought a "trapeze" dress—as reported by a New York dress manufacturer—and definitely will not wear either a trapeze or a chemise Easter Sunday, according to her social secretary, Mrs. Jane McCaffree.

A New York publicity firm Thursday issued pictures of a Dior influenced tent-shaped dress, with bows on bosom and hips, barely distinguishable high waist and a 17½ inch high hemline.

The manufacturer, Susy Perette, was quoted as saying Mrs. Eisenhower had ordered a size 12 (price $39.95) after seeing the dress modeled at the cherry blossom fashion show here last week.

Mrs. McCaffree denied the published report.

She would not say what the First Lady will wear when she attends Easter services in Gettysburg, Pa.

"You know," she said, "girls may change their minds."

Boy, 13, Kills Mother, Sister And Brother

ANCHORAGE Alaska 3P—A 13-year-old boy who in a two-hour rampage killed his mother, brother and sister cannot be charged with the crimes. A territorial law prohibits prosecution of children under 16.

Robert Courtney admitted to police he shot to death his mother, Mrs. Jesse B. Courtney, 47, a native of Murry, Idaho, who has lived here for 22 years, and her two other children, Bonnie Vay, 7, and Jesse Jr., 9.

Psychiatrists will examine Robert to help juvenile authorities decide his fate. The court can either turn him over to the custody of the Department of Juvenile Institutions or order him confined in a mental institution.

In describing his savage spree that began after his mother belted him mildly for quitting his job in his father's sheet metal shop, the boy told police that he was tired "of getting pounded, smashed and kicked."

"When I started shooting I just couldn't stop, he told police. "I wanted to kill everybody."

After shooting the three members of his family, the youth ran five blocks and stole a car at gunpoint. He abandoned the car when it got stuck and took a second one which he drove to the vicinity of Anchorage High School.

Police say the boy was attempting to take a third car when he was apprehended by police.

The youth's father was called back to Anchorage from a Seattle business trip.

Former Commander Of Illinois Guard Dies

CHICAGO 3P—Richard J. Smykal, 57, veteran of World War II in the Pacific and former commander of the Illinois National Guard, died at Presbyterian Hospital today.

He entered the hospital Monday after suffering a coronary attack, according to his son, Ralph.

Smykal was a resident of Wheaton, where he was a home building contractor.

Find Baby Girl Unharmed; Nurse is Held

AURORA, Ill. 3P—Mrs. Mary Ann Pfeiffer, 44, a practical nurse and a 3-week-old girl she took from the Copley Memorial hospital nursery were found near here today.

The child was unharmed. Mrs. Pfeiffer said "I felt God intended me to have this baby."

Her husband, J. Charles Pfeiffer, 26, said "As soon as we get this all straightened out we want to try and adopt it." Mrs. Pfeiffer, meanwhile, was served with a kidnap warrant.

Pfeiffer had tipped off authorities to his wife's whereabouts. She said she had spent the night with friends on Chicago's North Side. Police Chief Donald F. Curran said he arranged to meet them on U. S. 65 west of nearby Naperville and the Pfeiffers were intercepted as they drove with the baby back toward Aurora.

The child had been taken during the night from the hospital nursery. The alarm for Mrs. Pfeiffer went out soon afterwards. "God knows we didn't try to kidnap the baby," said Pfeiffer. "We want it very badly."

The two told police they had talked with a "welfare worker"—not named—who had been in contact with the baby's mother. From what the worker said, they thought it was all right to take the child, the couple said.

The infant, who was to have been placed in a foster home for adoption today, was spirited away between 10:30 and 11:30 p. m. Hospital officials said the mother, who was separated from her husband, had signed papers making the child a ward of the Kane County Court.

with the statement that our individual lives can be compared to a river which during its course influences the lives of all who live within the area of the course it follows. He stated that "true happiness can be found only in the sharing of yourself and your talents, whether great or small, with other people."

Mr. Malone's talk was preceded by a piano solo by his daughter, Miss Candace Malone.

James Bond of Galatia displayed three very old Bibles which were dated 1827, 1853 and 1869. The latter Bible was inscribed "To Albert Rowland—a reward for regular attendance at Sabbath School—from his teacher, M. E. Wilson, July 1869."

During the business meeting, the president of the society, Louis Aaron, appointed his committees for the year as follows: Membership: Mrs. James Bond, Mrs. Paul Hatfield, Mrs. Bang Summers, and Mary White; Flower: Mrs. Ray Altmeir; Hospitality: Mrs. Clarence Bosket; Program: John Foster, Paul Hatfield and William Farley; Publicity: Mrs. Don Scott.

Mr. Aaron expressed his appreciation to the many people who sent in the names of the early doctors in Saline county. These are to be used in compiling as complete a list as possible of all the doctors who practiced in Saline county from the beginning up to the present time.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments of ice cream cake roll and coffee were served by Mrs. Ray Altmeir, Mrs. Clarence Bosket, Mrs. William Farley, and Mrs. Nelle Meyers.

The next meeting of the Historical Society will be held May 6. The program will consist of a panel discussion of early law practice in Saline and adjoining counties. Anyone who knows of the first lawyers who practiced in Saline county or who knows of any unusual or interesting law cases during the early days of the county should plan to attend this meeting.

Congressmen to Test Home Demands For Cut in Taxes

WASHINGTON 3P—Members of Congress moved into their home grounds today for spring soundings which could measure public demand for tax cuts.

When Congress started its 10-day Easter recess Thursday it could already boast of a relatively fat record of achievement at the halfway point of its annual session.

Speaker Sam Rayburn listed 27 bills passed by House and Senate since Jan. 7 and said this was an "imposing" total for "so short a time."

The current recess gives most members their first extended stay in their constituencies since the first of the year when satellites and missiles monopolized public attention. Domestic economic conditions have had more attention for the past two months.

Congress must act on a major tax bill before June 30.

CHUNK O' CHEESE BREAD

- 1½ cups water
- ½ cup corn meal
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 packet active dry yeast or 1 ounce compressed yeast
- ½ cup warm water
- 4 to 4½ cups sifted Pillsbury's Best All Purpose Flour
- 1 lb. American cheese, cut into ½ 1½ 1/2-inch cubes

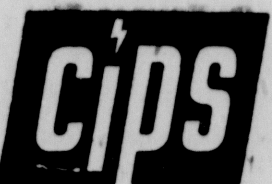

In 2-qt. saucepan combine water, corn meal and salt. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; cook until slightly thickened. Remove from heat; stir in molasses and butter. Cook to lukewarm.

Soften yeast in water in large mixing bowl; blend in this molasses mixture. Gradually add flour to form stiff dough. Knead on well-floured surface until smooth and shiny, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl and cover. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, 1 to 1½ hours.

Line two 8 or 9-inch round pans with 12-inch squares of aluminum foil, edges extending over pan; grease well. Place dough on surface sprinkled with corn meal. Work dough into dough, ½ at a time, until cubes are evenly distributed. Divide into two parts.

Shape into round loaves, covering cheese cubes; place in pans. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 45 to 55 minutes until deep golden brown.

Harrisburg Halliburton Employees are Honored for Outstanding Sales in '57

Harrisburg employees of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. were honored this week for their outstanding sales record in 1957. R. E. Merriman, field man, represented the oil well servicing firm's eight Harrisburg employees at Evansville Monday night when the Harrisburg district was presented a sales trophy by Ed Trapp, Halliburton sales manager from Duncan, Okla.

"The Harrisburg location is certainly due congratulations for helping the Evansville division, of which Harrisburg is a part, win our company-wide 1957 floating equipment sales award," Mr. Trapp told the guests at the meeting. "Our sales last year topped any previous year."

An oil field specialty product, floating equipment is used when a new well's production pipe or casing is lowered into the hole, and in the following completion steps.

"Contrary to what the movies would have you believe, Texas does not produce all the oil in this country," Grover Kilgore, Halliburton's vice president for sales and advertising, said at the meeting. "Oil fields in the eastern U. S. are very important and this floating equipment award is a reflection of their importance."

The meeting Monday at Evansville was the first of a series being held this week for Halliburton employees in Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Michigan.

Kilgore, Trapp and one other Halliburton executive from the company's Duncan, Okla., headquarters, Regional Vice President Hosea P. Hearn, are conducting the sessions.

Accompanying the Oklahoma group during the round of meetings is R. W. Mitchell, division manager at Evansville.

by ED LACY

THE STORY: While Detective Dave Wintino is attending a party given by some of his wife's friends, he learns from a TV broadcast that Al Wales, another former cop has been murdered. Wales was the partner of Ed Owens, who was murdered in an alley the previous day. Although it is Wintino's day off, he prepares to leave the party.

XIV

Mary ran after me to the door. "I was never so embarrassed in my life!" she whispered. "You had to show off that lousy gun to startle my friends!"

"I wasn't showing off. How was I to know you hadn't told your boon buddies I was a cop. Way you hid it, you'd think I was in the rackets."

"I know you, you did it on purpose, grandstanding!"

"Stop it," I said, opening the door. "Thought you'd like the idea of me being the big attraction tonight—unless you count the jukebox on the couch."

"Attraction? You fool, they were making fun of you! Now you cap it all by rushing off like a child hearing a fire alarm. You're off duty, they can't get in touch with you here, why the—"

"Mary, another ex-cop has been gunned. I'm not only on the case but if I'd followed my hunches, Wales might be alive now. Do you need cab fare?"

"Just leave me alone!" She turned back toward the others and I walked out. I listened for a moment outside the door—there wasn't any laughter.

I reached the precinct house at 20 to 12. The midnight tour was in the muster room studying the post condition board and shooting the breeze. The desk lieutenant was a fat slob who'd never heard about the invention of the comb. As I walked in he cracked, "Hey, sonny, where you going? Oh... it's you, Wintino."

"I came back to get a Popsicle I didn't finish this afternoon. Lieutenant," I said to show the joker I could go along with a gag, even a cornball one.

There were only two men in the detective squad room, a guy built like a football tackle—name? Wilson—and a slim, dapper (if you go for herringbone weaves) gray-haired man who was the senior detective on the squad and in charge when Reed wasn't around. He was Tom Landon, the quiet type who always looks bored and never gets excited. He asked, "Got your tour mixed, Dave? What you doing here?"

"Heard on TV about Al Wales getting killed."

"Yes, quite a thing. Eleven thousand bucks in a money belt wrapped around his gut. Shame a man has to kick the bucket with that kind of dough unspent."

"Where's Lieutenant Reed?" Landon leaned back in his chair. "Home, I guess. Something go wrong in Night Court?"

"No, I thought with this Wales shooting, I mean it proves Owens wasn't in any stick-up, he was deliberately gunned... figured we'd all be working tonight."

"Sure does throw a different light on the Owens thing," Landon said. "But Wales wasn't killed in this precinct and any way, Central Office is handling both killings now. I got my paper work to write up before midnight so... Wintino, you actually came here because...? If we wanted you we would have phoned. Beat it."

"We should be working. These two are former cops."

"Cops die, too, like everybody else."

"But I had a hunch on Owens all along and if I'd seen Wales today, as I wanted to."

Landon shook his little head. "Don't take your job home with you, Dave. Leave it in your locker with your walking shoes."

"I suppose they're checking—"

"This isn't out yet, Dave, so keep quiet. They found a .38 that belonged to Wales in his room. Ballistics says it's the gun that killed Owens."

I got up late the next morning. I put on old slacks, army shoes, a sweatshirt and a long sport shirt to cover my gun in a belt holster, and decided to do some roadwork. I walked over to Central Park and trotted around the reservoir, throwing punches like a pug. I enjoy exercise and the clean air in my lungs seemed to drive away the blues. But when I reached the west side of the reservoir I suddenly stopped—what was I training for? I wasn't a would-be pug anymore but a detective and I'd already wasted too much time. I was on my own these two days, and could devote all my time to the case. I walked over to Central Park West and took a subway to Brooklyn. I had two addresses I wanted to check.

The first was out in the Fort Hamilton section and I walked past rows of old two-story private houses that reminded me of the Owens dump, till I stopped before a shingle house with a tiny garden and a busted picket fence in front. The house looked pretty seedy—it was clean and recently painted, but soap and paint won't hold a house together. There were two doorbells, two battered old-style mailboxes. Neither had the name Kahn, Sal Kahn's mother. I rang the downstairs bell.

A frightful biddy answered the door. A fat sausage wrapped in a dirty pink housecoat, her face powdered a dead white with zigzag lightning eyebrows and lip stick an inch wide around her mouth, like a circus clown. Her thin, frizzled hair was too red and the powder on her puss seemed to accent the wrinkles. Didn't seem possible a guy had ever married this bag. She said, "Yes, sonny?" and smiled.

Rainbow's Pharmacy Monthly News

A message from Bob Keltner, "Your Pharmacist"

LAST YEAR ABOUT 500 NEW MEDICINES WERE INTRODUCED.

As soon as each one was clinically proved we stocked it in our prescription department. We intend to continue getting any new drugs as fast as they are available.

WE CAN COMPOUND ANY PRESCRIPTION.

Even if from another city, any physician's prescription will be filled according to his exact specifications.

YOUR PHYSICIAN NOW CAN HELP YOU MORE.

Improved techniques of diagnosis and treatment, plus the new drugs, are so important that we sincerely advise you to depend more on your physician's advice. Most home remedies and patent medicines are relics of a vanishing past.

WHEN YOU ARE SICK—

Let your physician prescribe the particular medicine that will help you most. The moderate charge for his fee and the prescription can save you sickness time and perhaps your very life.

Peterson Picks Yankees And Braves to Win Flags; Dodgers, White Sox Second

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla. (U.P.)—There comes a time each spring when baseball fever leads the so-called experts to pick the forthcoming pennant winners.

So who'll it be in 1958? The Milwaukee Braves and the New York Yankees. That's chalk, as they say in horse racing, all the way. Why stick to chalk? Because the Braves and Yanks have all the horses.

Things can change, of course, with such things as trade, injuries and the like. But after spending six weeks watching the 12 major clubs training in Florida and examining reports on how things are going with the four clubs who base their conditioning camps in Arizona, it comes down to this:

National League
1. Milwaukee; 2. Los Angeles; 3. St. Louis; 4. Cincinnati; 5. Philadelphia; 6. Pittsburgh; 7. San Francisco; 8. Chicago.

American League
1. New York; 2. Chicago; 3. Detroit; 4. Boston; 5. Cleveland;

6. Baltimore; 7. Kansas City; 8. Washington.

Of the two pennant picks, we like the Yankees the best. We agree with Cookie Lavagetto, the manager of the Washington Senators, when he says the Yankees will win by 15 games.

"They have players in the minors who would be out there every day for me," Lavagetto explains.

The world champion Braves are almost as well-stocked. But there is one big difference. The key players of the Braves aren't too happy with the way they were treated when it came to their 1958 salaries. They had to hold out, and then finally accepted terms which were not completely satisfactory. Add to that, the quiet, Simon-Legree methods of manager Fred Haney, and you'll find the team spirit of the Braves several notches lower than that of the Yanks. That could hurt.

The Yankees may not have the gilded pitching of the Chicago White Sox, but they have all the other things—power hitting, the best bench in baseball, defense, and one of the craftiest managers of them all in Casey Stengel.

Dodgers Take Lead in Series With Braves

By United Press

Perhaps the experts who've been writing off the Los Angeles Dodgers as a pennant contender had better take another look at manager Walt Alston's "nine old men."

The Dodgers are supposed to have more holes than a pound of Swiss cheese but they've looked mighty solid to the world champion Milwaukee Braves this spring and their overall 13-10 record is fourth best on the Grapefruit and Cactus circuits. They whipped the Braves, 5-3, Thursday to take a 3-1 lead in their nine-game spring series.

What's more, the Dodgers demonstrated they haven't lost their touch against Milwaukee ace Warren Spahn, who hasn't beaten them since 1951. Spahn started Thursday's game at Jacksonville, Fla., and was raked for eight hits and four runs, including two homers by Charlie Neal and one by rookie Dick Gray, in five innings.

Fleet, aggressive Jim Rivera starred for the Chicago White Sox as they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, before an overflow crowd at Pensacola, Fla. Rivera scored the first Chicago run after stealing second base in the second inning and cut down the potential winning run with a fine throw from right field in the ninth.

In the other games, the Baltimore Orioles swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 10-5 and 11-10, the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Kansas City Athletics, 9-7, the Chicago Cubs whipped the San Francisco Giants 10-5, and the Cincinnati Redlegs and Washington Senators played a 12-inning 3-3 deadlock.

Matter of Fact

When Alexander the Great died in 323 B.C., his generals divided his empire among themselves. One, a Macedonian named Ptolemy, became satrap or governor of Egypt. About 306 B.C., when all the generals took the title of king, he became king of Egypt. Ptolemy won the respect of the Egyptians by developing commerce and by creating a center of art and culture.

Romonosky Is Praised in Article In North Carolina

John Romonosky's bid to return to baseball's professional ranks appears exceptionally good at this time.

John has signed a contract with Charlotte, N. C., Washington farm club in the Class A South Atlantic (Sally) league.

A recent article in the Charlotte Observer, by an Observer sports writer from the training base at Fernandina Beach, Fla., begins "John Romonosky continues to glitter like a piece of gold on the mound," and continues to relate that in an exhibition game he hurled five scoreless innings, allowed only one hit, had three strikeouts and walked three. And at bat John cracked out three hits, including a double.

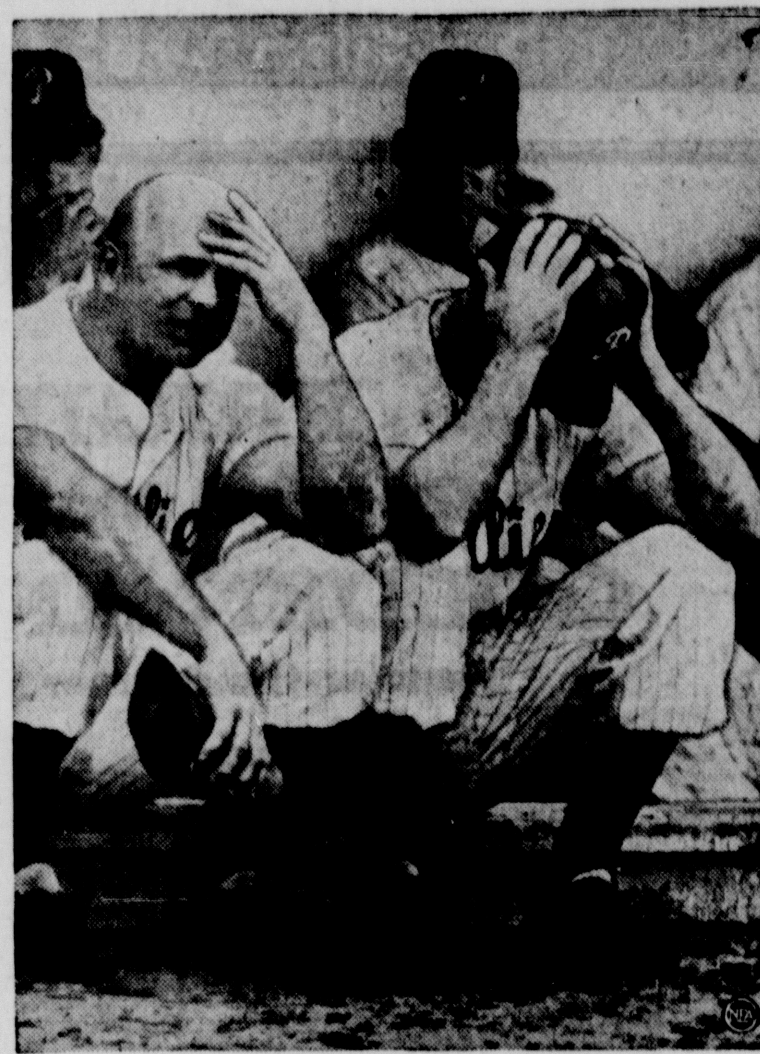

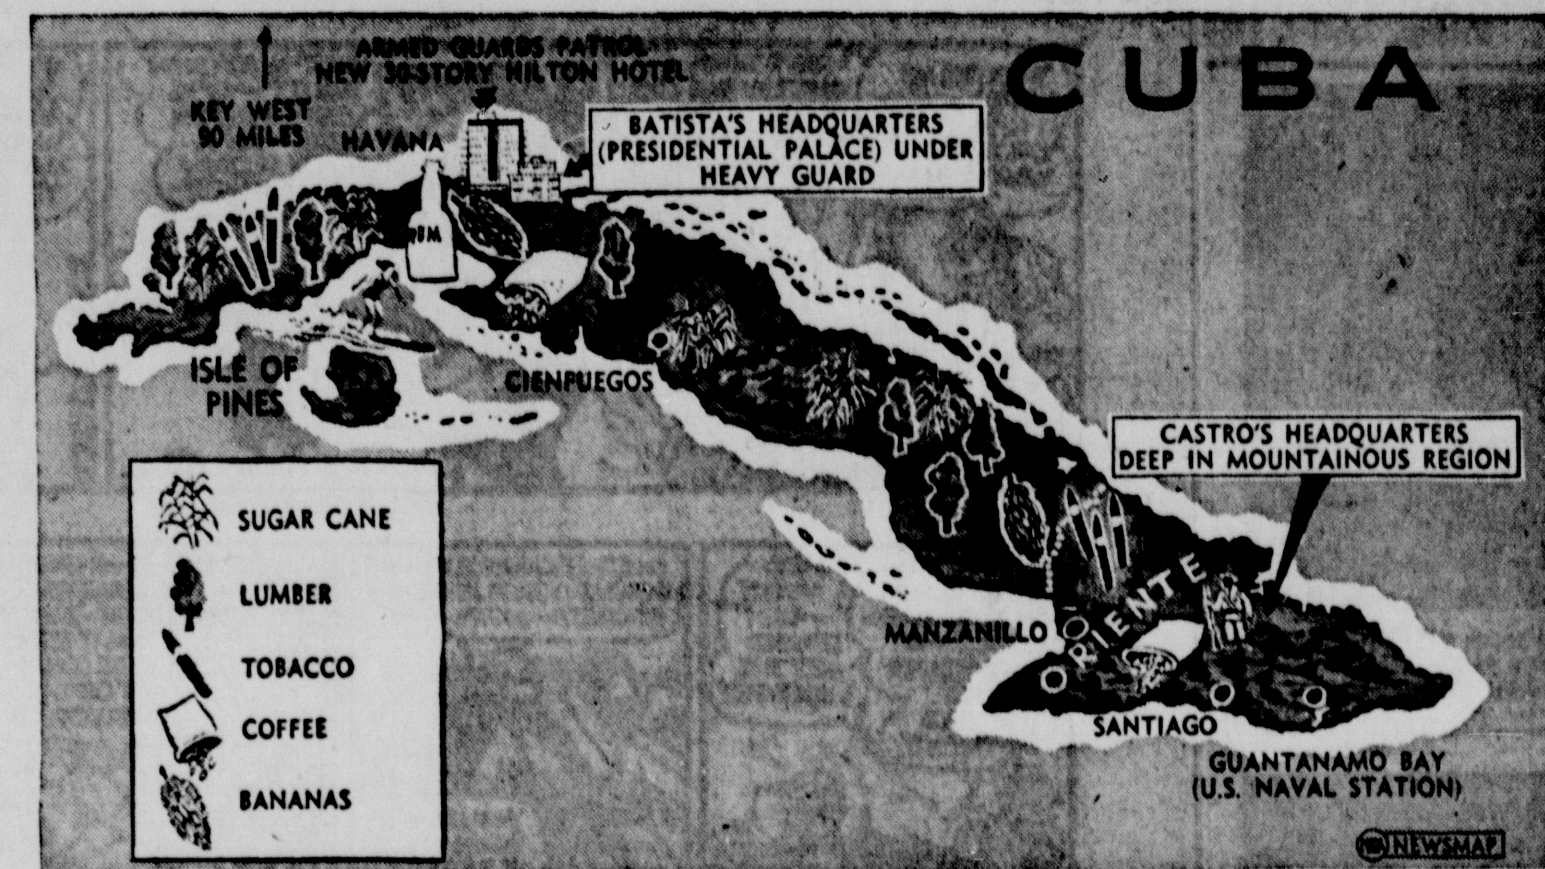

The article quotes Bill Harris, Washington scout commenting on Romonosky as follows: "He threw harder than anybody I've seen all spring, including the big leaguers. He seems to have everything—class, polish, a good arm and baseball sense. One good year at Charlotte and this fellow could hop right into the major leagues."

Fight Results

By United Press
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Jesse Bowdry, 171, St. Louis, stopped Bobby Layne, 172, Miami, Fla. (10); Charles (Sunny) Liston, 205, St. Louis, outpointed Bert Whitehurst, 192, Baltimore, Md. (10).

DENVER, Colo.—Nino Valdes, 206, Cuba, outpointed Wayne Bethea, 204, New York (10).

SAN FRANCISCO—Bobby Scanlon, 133, San Francisco, stopped Luke Easter, 135, San Francisco (8).

SEEING IS NOT BELIEVING—Pitching is not the weakest department of the Phillies, yet there are times in Florida exhibition games when Coach Andy Seminick, left, and Manager Mayo Smith hold their heavy heads in disbelief and dismay.

Venturi Takes One-Stroke Lead Into Second Round of Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U.P.)—Sophomore pro Ken Venturi, who served notice two years ago his day of destiny in the golf world was about to dawn, took a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the 22nd Masters tournament.

The slim San Franciscan, who at 27 is considered a golfing youngster, shot a four-under-par 68 Thursday to prove that his selection by veteran pros and sports writers as the favorite to win Bobby Jones' tournament this year was no idle gossip.

If his 11-foot birdie putt on the 18th green had dropped instead of skipping a foot past the cup, he would have carried a two stroke lead into today's second round.

Four golfers, including three-time Masters winner Jimmy Demaret, were hot on Venturi's heels with opening day scores of 69. Joining Demaret, of Kiamnesia Lake, N. Y., with three-under par round were Australia's little Norman Von Nida, Bob Winger of Odessa, Tex. and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.

One-time Memphis, Tenn., dentist Cary Middlecoff, who now plays out of Hollywood, Fla., was two strokes back with 70, along with Flory Van Donck of Belgium and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

The low amateur for the first round was Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, who shot a 71, along with eight professionals. They included Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex.; Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La.; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex.; Roberto De Vicenzo, Mexico City; Jack Fleck, Rochester, Mich.; and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

Announce Dates For Ladies Bowling Tourney

Bowlers are now registered for the forthcoming Ladies' Bowling tournament. The tournament will be held at the Harrisburg Bowl on April 19-20 and April 26 and 27. The first week-end will be team participation and the latter week-end for double and single events. Eleven teams are entered; 16 entrants for the singles and eight for the doubles.

Teams entered are: General Telephone Co., Coca Cola, Skaggs Electric No. 1, Skaggs Electric No. 2, Parker Oil, Athletic House, Sunbeam Bread, Barnhill Market, Kresge, Richmond Service and Harriet's Beauty Shop.

SIU Defeats Quincy, 7-3

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U.P.)—Southern Illinois University managed only two hits but still defeated Quincy College, 7-3, in a non-conference baseball game Thursday.

Southern scored five runs in the first inning on three walks followed by a three-run double by Roger Buyan and a homer by J. W. Sanders.

Southern added two unearned runs in the sixth on a walk, two errors, a passed ball and a wild pitch.

Quincy banged out nine hits, but could score only twice in the second inning and once in the sixth.

Voters of Saline County:

I am applying for the job as County Clerk of Saline county, beginning next December. You, the voters, do the hiring.

Isn't that about what it amounts to when a man is a candidate for office and asks the voters to choose him?

I have been working for you for a little more than three years as your County Treasurer. You know by now the kind of a job I try to do.

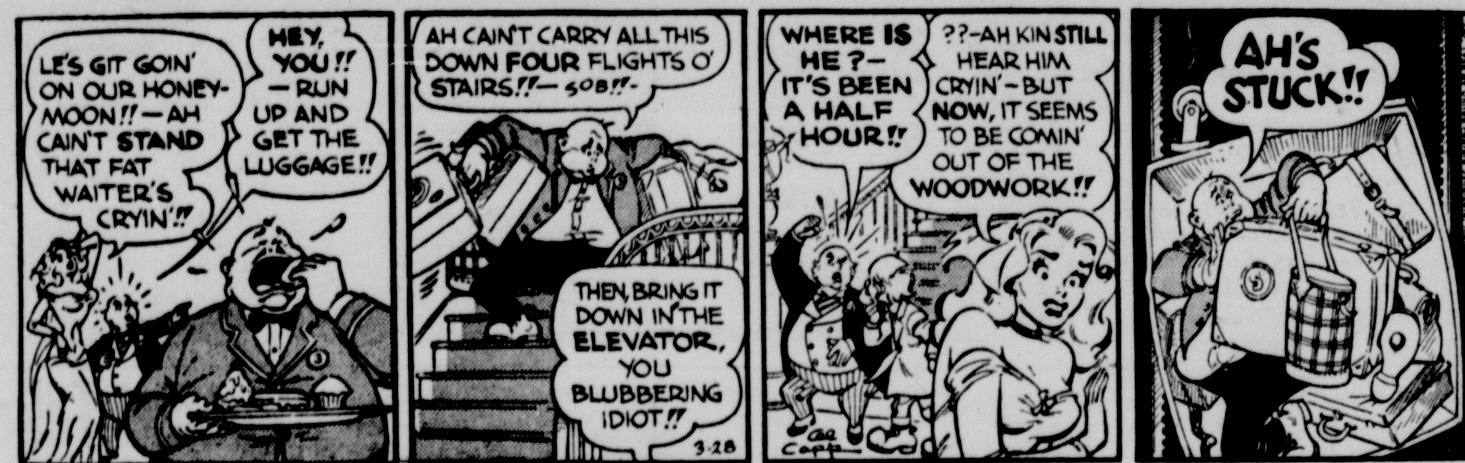

I am asking for the Democratic nomination for County Clerk at the Primary election next Tuesday. I hope to be successful in that attempt, and that voters of both parties will consider me favorably in November.

Votes in the Democratic primary Tuesday are earnestly solicited.

MAYNARD CANNON

Candidate for Democratic nomination for County Clerk.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Jesus was crucified by mob violence, though in the judgment before Pilate no evil could be found in Christ. Today on the anniversary of the Crucifixion there are still thousands of indifferent people who could be swayed by a crowd. They would join in the cry "Crucify Him," rather than testify to His power, His love and His innocence.

Those who bend their knees in humility before the rugged cross on Calvary today must do more than pray silently. They must live and speak their witness for Him who died that they might live. They must face the reality of what their silence means to God.

On this day of sorrows we must not only confess our sins, but also we must confess before men our belief in God and our faith in the power of God to lead mankind beyond Easter.
